Nancy Atlas and a Red Hot Chili Pepper Spice Up The Surf Lodge

Submitted by admin on August 3, 2010 – 3:10 pm No Comment

The unsinkable Nancy Atlas usually leaves a trail of smoke and charred pink boa feathers in her wake but she was so smokin' hot with her band at Surf Lodge on Wednesday that Montauk's finest were almost called to bring power hoses to cool it down. Her special guest fiddle player Randy added a she-devil goes to Georgia energy to the evening.

As if that wasn't enough the wizard of drum sticks Chad Smith of the Red Hot Chili Peppers sat in to spice it up to five-kick-ass-music-alarm status. The setting on the deck outside with the red-hued sun over Fort Pond was seriously to die for or in this case to live for.

For those who may have missed the night (and we did rub it in to every person who decided to work late instead of party) you can catch Nancy Atlas at the Surf Lodge in Montauk every Wednesday from 6p – 8p and there are cold beer specials to keep you chillin'.

Hot news off the Nancy Atlas Project front is the release of her band's new CD on Thursday August 8 at the Stephen Talkhouse in Amagansett. The $20 at the door gets you a live performance and your own copy of the new CD. She's playing 9p – 10:30p so gussie up on the early side for Talkhouse shenanigans. She'll also be there on Friday August 6 starting at 9:30. If ever you're going to double dip – do it with Nancy Atlas.
